

Donor Privacy Policy

The National Council of La Raza (NCLR) deeply values the contributions that our donors make to sustain our mission. To protect the privacy of our donors, we maintain the following policies:

NCLR collects and uses personal information – such as name, address, phone number, and email address – when a donor voluntarily provides it to us. In addition, NCLR keeps a record of each donor’s giving history. This information is kept on file for IRS purposes and is also used by the Resource Development department to analyze overall giving patterns and make more accurate budget projections.

In addition,

- We do not sell our donor lists to other organizations.
- When making a donation, donors may give NCLR permission to list them in its publications either by name or as an anonymous donor.
- Donors may request to not be solicited in the future.
- Donors may request to not receive mailings such as our newsletter.
